Montgomery County, Virginia –

Advanced Logic Industries

(www.ali-inc.com) has announced that the company will invest approximately $1.1 million in an expansion to the Falling Branch Corporate Park. The company will construct a 10,000 to 15,000 square foot building to serve as a corporate headquarters, training, and light manufacturing facility. Construction on the building will begin by January 2008. The company currently has 51 employees, and this expansion will create at least 10 new jobs.

Formed in 1991, ALI is one of the leading technology consulting and integration firms in the Mid Atlantic region; with offices in Blacksburg, Roanoke, and Lynchburg (Forest). ALI offers a complete range of Information Technology services that includes IT consulting, systems support, equipment procurement, installation, support, training and software development. ALI has strategic relationships with industry leaders such as Cisco Systems, Novell, Microsoft, HP and IBM. In fact, ALI was named Novell's 2004 US Southeast Partner of the Year, and is part of a very select group of regional providers who are specialized in Cisco telephony and security solutions. These key strategic partnerships, a uniquely skilled workforce, attention to strategic goals, and reputation for high customer satisfaction achievements have helped fuel their growth.

The Montgomery County Industrial Development Authority is selling the 3.691 acre, Lot 7 to the company.

According to a statement from ALI President Michael Barry "We are very excited to have found in the Falling Branch Corporate Park a location that we believe will combine key elements of accessibility and convenience in an environment that will showcase our new headquarters location. ALI was founded with a belief that we could create a technology firm with local roots that could compete head to head with the kind of talent more commonly found in larger metropolitan markets. Now our continued growth and success have brought us to the point that we are ready to expand again."

Gary Creed, Chair of the Board of Supervisors, said "the Montgomery County Board of Supervisors is excited by Advanced Logic Industries' (ALI) decision to expand in Montgomery County. ALI's expansion to Falling Branch Corporate Park is a 'win-win' for the County and the Company. ALI will acquire a first class business location and the County benefits from the expansion of existing technology oriented businesses to our premier business park. This is a perfect example of the County's Economic Development staff focusing on high growth technology companies as indicated in the County's Economic Development Strategic Plan."
